

moral
realism

moral
nihilism

A solid green circle with a subtle drop shadow, containing the text "moral relativism" in white, bold, sans-serif font.

moral
relativism

A better argument for moral relativism is the argument
from moral disagreement.

We get a version of this argument in the reading today from Ruth Benedict, one of the most important American anthropologists of the 20th century.

Benedict gives us in this paper an impressive list of moral disagreements between various cultures. Notably, we do not find disagreement of this sort about, for example, whether the sky is blue. So, we might ask: Why is there widespread moral disagreement of the sort we find in the world?

from moral disagreement.

A better argument for moral relativism is the argument

We get a version of this argument in the reading today anthropologists of the 20th century.

from Ruth Benedict, one of the most important American

Benedict gives us in this paper an impressive list of moral find disagreement of this sort about, for example, whether disagreements between various cultures. Notably, we do not the sky is blue. So, we might ask: Why is there widepread major disagreement of the sort we find in the world?

