

1. I can clearly imagine a scenario in which I wake up in a different body.
2. If I can clearly imagine something being the case, then it is possible for it to be the case.
3. It is possible that I wake up in a different body. (1,2)
4. If it is possible that I wake up in a different body, then materialist theories of survival are false.

C. Materialist theories of survival are false. (3,4)

THE BODY-SWAPPING ARGUMENT

One can also generate swapping arguments against answers to the survival question which focus on immaterial souls.

1. I can clearly imagine a scenario in which I wake up in a different body.
2. If I can clearly imagine something being the case, then it is possible for it to be the case.
3. It is possible that I wake up in a different body. (1,2)
4. If it is possible that I wake up in a different body, then materialist theories of survival are false.

C. Materialist theories of survival are false. (3,4)

THE BODY-SWAPPING ARGUMENT

One can also generate swapping arguments against answers to the survival question which focus on innaterialsouls.

1. I can clearly imagine a scenario in which I wake up in a different body.
2. If I can clearly imagine something being the case, then it is possible for it to be the case.
3. It is possible that I wake up in a different body. (1,2)
4. If it is possible that I wake up in a different body, then materialist theories of survival are false.

C. Materialist theories of survival are false. (3,4)

THE BODY-SWAPPING ARGUMENT

One can also generate swapping arguments against

answers to the survival question which focus on innaterialsoul.