

Courses
of action

believe

don't believe

Rewarding
God exists

God does not exist

IOS

$$\text{Pr.} = m$$

$$\text{Pr.} = 1 - m - n$$

Expected
utility

Objection 3: God might give eternal reward to believers and
nonbelievers alike.

$$\text{Pr.} = n$$

Generous
God exists

Setting aside the possibility of No reward God, which we have seen to be irrelevant, taking account of the possibility of Generous God has a striking effect on the expected utilities of belief and nonbelief.

possibility of Gender Gap has a striking effect on the Setting aside the possibility of No reward God, which expected utilities of belief and nonbelief.

we have seen to be irrelevant, taking account of the

Objection 3: God might
give eternal reward to
believers and
nonbelievers alike.

possibility of Genus God has a striking effect on the

Setting aside the possibility of No reward God, which

expected utilities of belief and nonbelief.

we have seen to be irrelevant, taking account of the