

free will
and determinism

A large orange circle with a subtle drop shadow, containing the text 'against compatibilist free will' in white, bold, sans-serif font.

against
compatibilist
free will

against incompatibilist
free will

1. Isabel is responsible for poisoning the coffee.
2. If Isabel is responsible for poisoning the coffee, then her act of poisoning the coffee is free.
3. Isabel's act of poisoning the coffee is free.
(1,2)
4. Isabel had no choice about the chip being inserted into her brain.
5. The chip being inserted into Isabel's brain necessitates that she will poison the coffee.

- C. An act can be free even if it is necessitated by facts about which the agent has no choice.
(3,4,5)

THE FRANKFURT ARGUMENT

How should the defender of the consequent argument reply?

It is natural to think that they must object to either (1) or (2), since (4) and (5) just specify features of the example. But (1) looks tough to deny.

coflee, then her act of poisoning the coffee is need estimates that she will provide the confidence.

4. Isabel had no choice about the chip being

2. If Isabel is responsible for poisoning the

1. Isabel is responsible for providing the coffee.

5. The chip being inserted into Isabel's brain

3. Isabel's act of imprisoning the confessor is free.

(1, 2)

by facts about which the agent has no choice.

(3, 4, 5)

inspired their brain.

Crucial Anticancer Agent

How should the defender of the consequent argument reply?

deny.

It is natural to think that they must object to either (1) or (2), since (4) and (5) just specify features of the example. But (1) looks tough to varlatatie + the last of the last future is not as it was with the state of the

4. If determinism is true, the laws of

3. If determined, the only one happened in the distant past.

theorie about the fact that if DNR

1. No one has any choice about events which

and none has any choice about whether,

5. No one has any choice about what the laws

2. None has any choice about DIDS. ATJR.

about whether @.

then DECISION happens. (3)

C. If determinis_true , then no_one_has_any nature say that if DNS AR happens,

6. If $\det A$ is true, then A has any

choice about DECISION (2, 6, 7)

7. If none has about choice about whether P,

then DECISION. (4,5)

if P , then Q , then one has any choice

of interest.

choice about the laws of nature, then no

one has any choice about the past, no

This argument seems to show that the rules out free will.

choice principle, and determinism

combination of four - that No

hence that free will is incompatible with true, there are no free actions — and

seem quite plausible, the argument

Since the first three of these theses

seems to show that if determinism is 0: There is no fire will.

1. Freewill is incompatible with determinism.

2. If Libertarianism is true, there is no free

Wili.

Real/|the master argument:

The consequence argument is a defense of premise (1). If you believe in free will, and find the consequent argument persuasive, it looks tempting to reply to the master argument by denying premise (2).

against
compatibilist
free will

A large red circle with a slight drop shadow, containing white text. The text is arranged in three lines, centered within the circle.

against
incompatibilist
free will

We can lay out this puzzle in terms of the following master argument against the reality of free will.

1. Free will is incompatible with determinism.

2. If Libertarianism is true, there is no free

0. There is no fire in.

Wili.

Compatibility believers in free will reject premise (1). An incompatibilist believe in free will rejects premise (2).

or premise (3) is true. We're now going to look at two arguments — one for (2), and one for (3).

Now, so far we have been given no reason to think that either premise (2)

THE FRANKFURT ARGUMENT

1. Isabel is responsible for providing the coffee.

neccessitates that she will provide.

by facts about which the agent has no choice.

inserted into her brain.

3. Isabel's act of imprisoning the confessor is free.

4. Isabel had no chance about the chip being

(3, 4, 5)

5. The chip being inserted into Isabel's brain

coftee, then her act of poisoning the coffee is

(1, 2)

2. If Isabel is responsible for poisoning the

Can't act can be free even if it is not as it is

THE FRANKFURT ARGUMENT

It is natural to think that they must object to either (1) or (2), since (4)

and (5) just specify features of the example. But (1) looks tough to deny.