

Suppose now that I we can make changes to the society which will lead to one of the following results.

Which does the utilitarian theory of justice require?

Support now that we can make changes to the society which will lead to the following results.